

Honoring the top students at the Faculty of Pharmacy
Horus University for the academic year 2023-2024 and outstanding students in activities

The Faculty of Pharmacy - Horus University honored the top students of the different academic teams to be role models for their colleagues. Honoring is one of the most important things that work on the growth and development of society, because it encourages the individual to continue to excel, and instills a spirit of competition among students, in addition to making them make a greater effort to serve the community. When we say thank you in a different way or style to someone who has excelled in his studies or work, or even during his role in society, this will instill within them a love of progress and development, which in turn helps create comprehensive development for society.
